Thank you for registering your quilt with the national Quilt Index project at www.QuiltIndex.org. The quilt you registered today along with related information and photographs will be added to the national Quilt Index maintained at Michigan State University as part of the Southern Oregon Quilt Documentation Project. Access to the Quilt Index is free and available to all on the Internet. You may also be contributing additional materials, photographs or documents to further explain and provide context for the quilt and the person who made the quilt.

You acknowledge that you own the rights to the additional materials, photographs or documents listed below. You retain ownership (intellectual property) of these and give a non-exclusive release to Rogue Valley Genealogy Society (RVGS) for research, public use and exhibition purposes. Some materials may be maintained in RVGS files, and some may be posted for public availability on the internet. Please list the additional materials provided to RVGS below, noting the relationship to the quilt and/or quiltmaker and specifically releasing the item(s) for public availability on the internet.
