

Nondiscrimination Policy

The Rogue Valley Genealogical Society strives to provide genealogical information, education, programs, classes, and research assistance to all. RVGS will not discriminate in membership, employment, or activity by reason of race, color, national origin, age, disability, beliefs, gender, gender identity, marital status, sexual orientation, citizenship, national origin, genetic information, or any other characteristic protected by law. RVGS does not engage in or endorse discrimination, harassment, or bullying against any person. RVGS strives to provide easy access and accommodation for disabilities to the extent possible with our all-volunteer workforce, space limitations, and financial resources.
